Although not as clear as on Sunday night, "Comet A 1910" was visible in the western sky shortly after sundown last night and was viewed by many amateur astronomers.

George Lelch, representing the E. W. Bliss company of Brooklyn, N. Y., returned last night after being in the city to consult with the local representative of the company, Harry W. Whitcomb.

The members of the Baraca and Philanthropic societies of the Baptist church and their friends are invited to a social at the home of W. W. Sutton Friday evening, January 28. Teams will leave the church at 7 o'clock.

The regular January meeting of St. Elizabeth's Ladies' Aid society for election of officers and important business will be held Friday evening, January 28, at 7:30 o'clock in the convent. A full attendance is desired.

Charles and Louis Jacques, who are working in St. Albans, were called to this city yesterday by the condition of their brother, George Jacques, who is ill with blood poisoning at the City hospital.

To-night at the opera house the White-side Strains company will present its big comedy success of last season, "His Sister's Sin." It was not their intention to play this bill, as they believe in presenting all new plays, but owing to the many requests have decided to do so. The play is a laugh from start to finish, full of heart interest and good sentiment. Specialties will be changed between the acts.
